

Teams For Success 3-Day Seminar

Cost: $975.00 includes all seminar fees and student text. (For on-site, call us for price quotes).

Target Audience: Any potential sponsor, coach, leader, or member.

This Seminar is an excellent workshop to develop and help teams get started. When we look at people describing problems they have encountered in their experimentation with quality circles, and project teams. They discovered that the tools weren't working as well as they should because the leaders and members of the groups lacked sufficient skills of managing groups-particularly in regard to response involvement in planning and decision-making.

In this seminar we have taken sound theoretical principles of adult learning and group dynamics and translated them into clear, practical easy-to-apply strategies and techniques for enabling project teams to do their work effectively and smoothly and is designed to meet the needs of classroom instructors. The course offers in-depth training on preparation and delivery of classroom presentation skills and communication skills the student is evaluated through a series of short teaching sessions (video recorded and critiqued) with final presentation.

Who Should Attend:

Anyone wanting to improve his or her teaching, communication, and understanding of the process for delivering quantified innovated instruction.

This course is especially applicable for personnel in regulated businesses, safety and industries that require 40 hours of instructor training. Persons with little or no formal training in classroom presentation skills and who will be delivering classroom sessions in their area of expertise will particularly benefit.
